Bread Lounge

What better way to pair a series of delicious pastries, breads and cakes if it isn't a cup of aromatically rich and smooth coffee? At Bread Lounge, you can find a wide array of classics done beautifully such as espresso, latte, cappuccino, mocha and flat white. The beans they use to pose a rather balanced flavour with nutty notes instead of a strong or over-diluted one. In any case, pair it with their signature Green Tea & Kantan or Guanaja 70% Hazel Praline cake, or perhaps some croissant and macarons. It's your choice.

Bread Lounge

Colourful, vibrant, and packed full of flavour! Bread Lounge's array of macarons will definitely leave you in awe. Unlike most places, Bread Lounge aims in creating an array of unique flavours, from pandan coconut to peanut butter jelly and many more. Each piece is done absolutely beautifully, where the sweetness isn't overcompensated for and flavours can be tasted throughout the process before swallowing. In any case, several serving of these along with a cup of coffee would certainly make a great tea-time snack.

If you're looking for a fusion between Malaysian flavours and European pastry, Bread Lounge's Beef Rendang Pot Pie will definitely do you justice. Priced at only RM8.50, their version of the beef rendang pot pie comes with a generous amount of beef rendang strips along with various other ingredients, all encased in a flaky puff pastry. Flavour-wise, there are no issues as the strips of beef are well marinated and seasoned to perfection. Bread Lounge

Bread Lounge's take on its pizza is definitely a little different compared to the rest. No, it's not circular in shape nor do they even use similar base. What they do have is a thin layer of dough baked to a crispy yet chewy perfection. For this Satay Pizza, it's topped with a sweet and savoury peanut sauce, marinated chicken cubes, a little bit of cheese, onions and cucumbers. The dish does look simple but the flavours are rather addictive!

Bread Lounge

As most of you might've already guessed, Bread Lounge is a place for pastry and bakeries. In that, they too have several delicious variants of croissants that many might not even think of doing. Apart from the standard layered and flaky croissant, Bread Lounge also offer a turkey roll croissant and a sausage chorizo croissant, both of which are absolutely delicious. Giving that added depth of flavour and savoury finish - lovely!
