Inspirational and electrifying

From onstage to offstage, the winner's trophy is in demand.

THE most anticipated moment of the StarProperty Real Estate Developer Awards 2024 was when the winners walked onto the stage, beaming with smiles and basking in the lights of the illuminated hall. This was the moment when the award trophy changed hands, from the Guest of Honour or Star Media Group (SMG) senior leadership to the winners. Cameras flashed, music mingled with applause reverberated louder, and the validation of year-long hard work was now sealed for all to see with the trophy firmly in hand. Weighty and at just the right height, the elongated trophy with solid edges represented the towering achievements collectively built by the real estate industry. Bestowed after a rigorous judging process, the trophy captured the dedication to making developments functional and purposeful for the eventual owners, contributing to the betterment of the locality.

After the moment of glory on stage, the trophy continued to be a magnet of celebration, rallying the rest of the winners' team members for photo sessions to commemorate their team spirit. Proud and inspired, the prize would continue to motivate them to return for next year's awards.
